WEDNESDAY 26TH JUNE

Registration and coffee 8:30am-9.15am

Opening & Key Note 9.15am-10am
Professor Ian Dunn
What is Digital @ CU? (Guy Surtees, Digital Productivity Team)

| 10:00am - 11.00am (60 mins) | Wellbeing at CU; whose business

Diane Phimister, Helen Bogusz, Rena Reeves
Chairing Panel Phil Brabham

Panel Q&A

Hear from each of the panel about the Wellbeing work they are going. And have the opportunity to ask questions. | Mi-Friendly City

Sinead Ouillon

Coventry University is helping to drive a programme to develop Migration Friendly Cities. A MiFriendly City should be underpinned by the voices, skills and passion of refugees and migrants, so that all branches of the community are fully invested in its future, and the social and economic fabric of the region is strengthened. Features include social enterprise, citizen social scientists, community health champions, legal health checks, an employers forum, citizen journalists, an upcycling factory and much more | Student Engagement Programme: Modernising the Student Journey and rethinking the way in which we engage with students in the Digital and Personalisation Era/Age

Student Engagement Programme Team

The University has committed to a significant strategic undertaking which aims to transform the way in which we engage with students across the student journey to adopt a joined-up, personalised approach enabled by the implementation of Salesforce as our Group Wide Customer Relationship Management Tool. Participants will have the opportunity to feedback their experience of student engagement, identify current gaps and improvements, share innovative approaches used to address some of the current challenges and define how they would like to get involved in the programme. | How to develop content for an online audience: developing Audio and Video material

John Sinton, Eoin Edwards, Reuben Abraham

Workshop

This workshop will show how we breathe life into your content in the context of an online community. You will be able to participate in a fun and practical exercise that demonstrates the use of different types of media and that showcases the social aspects of the online learning experience.
At Coventry University Online, we don't simply take a classroom course and swap it online. We deconstruct what you do as an academic and work with you to create a narrative suited to an online global space. We use a wide range of digital tools to produce exciting and engaging content, in conjunction with a Learning Design process.
Come with your thinking hats on! | Coventry University Group Corporate Strategy

Clive Winter

Following the conclusion of 2021 Corporate Strategy refresh at the end of the 2017/18 academic year, this session will provide a more detailed insight into the ecosystems of our core pillars of education & student experience, research, globalisation and enterprise & innovation. This session will enhance the understanding of how our corporate strategy is being delivered across the University Group. | Innovative approach for student engagement before/during and after science lab sessions, and assessment feedback - Sharon Williams and Learning Science Ltd.
Find out how smart worksheets, and formative feedback improves student independence in the lab.

Supporting student success: The sigma way - Prof Duncan Lawson, Dr Jim Tabor, Dr Mark Hodds, Dr Aiping Xu, Dr Jia Shao, Dr Liam Brierley, Dr Alun Owen
For the past 28 years, sigma Maths and Stats support has been helping students at Coventry achieve success in their degrees and beyond. This presentation will showcase the different ways we are supporting students and the impact they are having.

Zones of Team Engagement: A Strategy to Improve the Engagement of Learners in Groupwork - Roopa Nagori
Hear about how the team used Zones of Engagement to reduce issues with group work in postgraduate learning.

The MOJO Newsroom Project as a template for a portable, on-demand broadcasting studio - Priya Rajasekar
Learn how to create anytime, anywhere studios for broadcast of suitable live events such as journalism news shows, community-facing events, etc. The presentation will share learning and best practice.

Telling Our Stories: The Transformative Experience of Journalism and Refugees - Rachel Chapman, Una Murphy, Lisa Perry, Rachel Matthews
A community-based project which brings together BA Journalism students and the newly-arrived migrants to Coventry to capture and share their stories. |

Break and networking Stage11.00-11.30

| 11:30-12.30 (60 mins) | Campus Developments

Rob Thompson

Update on University Campus developments | Let's Talk About Sex
(description to follow)

Lorraine Gearing

Workshop

#BalanceForBetter is the 2019 theme that continues beyond International Women's' Day. Join our conversation café to explore how we individually and collectively drive gender balance forward through positive action at all levels through all voices. The issues and opportunities are relevant and open for everyone to attend, regardless of gender to share best practice and identify challenge. | Access and Widening Participation

Kate Howell

This session will set the policy context around our contribution to Social Mobility, explore some of the barriers that our students face, and consider the importance of evaluative practice. Participants will learn how the University is planning to address some of the issues and the role they can play in support. | How to develop content for an online audience: developing online pedagogy
Chris Winter, Sue Blydon, Mike Innes, Gareth Jones, Matthew Bennet

Panel disucssion

This panel discussion will showcase three very different online courses developed over the past year. You will be able to hear from those directly involved in designing the courses how they have done so. The discussion will explore the opportunities and challenges academics face when developing content for an engaging online social learning experience, as well as the skills and knowledge they have acquired during their online journey with Coventry University Online.
Developing online degrees is very a collaborative and intensive process. Core to this is the support provided by Coventry University Online Learning Designers, who help academic authors structure courses to make the most of the online learning platform in conjunction with Digital Media colleagues within the Studio. | Digital Productivity with Microsoft Office365 at the CU Group

Digital Productivity Team

How can we use the tools and apps we have at CU to become more digitally productive? What other apps/services could we be using in our work lives to communicate & collaborate globally? | Student Blogging as Assessment in Communities of Practice - Jess Bishop, Simon Cheung
How does blogging support and engage student assesment? Reflections from students, the IT team and the module team

Enlivening assignment briefs: Screencast videos for assessment literacy -Luda Ruddock, Kevin Coyne
This short presentation will highlight successes and challenges associated with piloting use of Screencast-O-Matic to support students' assessment literacy. Students' reflections and opportunities for co-production will be explored.

Supporting international employability in health psychology: pilot online international learning project - Carol Percy
The MSc Health Psychology team piloted an Online International Learning project to enhance students' employability. Hear more about their results

BMELTET – Blending MOOCs into English Language Teacher Education with Telecollaboration (COIL) - Marina Orsini-Jones, Abraham Cervero
This talk reports on how the MOOC Becoming a Better Teacher was blended into English Language Teaching (ELT) university programmes

Women in IT - Gazelleh Moradi, Sarah Cockrill
Women in IT is an IT Services initiative and our mission is to continually support, encourage, empower and inspire Women in IT. |

| 12:30-13:10 (40 mins) | Its time to talk!

University's Staff Mental Health Support Forum (MHSSF)

Members of the University's Staff Mental Health Support Forum (MHSSF) will be highlighting important issues affecting staff with mental health conditions. They will be telling their stories and having a conversation with attendees about why NOW it's "time to talk" and to take actions around all aspects of staff's mental health at work. | Coventry University Student Induction

Andrew Turner

Sharing practice/briefing

Participants at this session will be introduced to the new student induction process. It will showcase resources that are being developed. | Supporting Student Success through Assessment: making the most of the new assessments

Martin Jenkins
Hannelie Du Plessis-Walker

Participants at this session will be introduced to ideas and tools that will help them exploit the potential of core and applied core assessments. | Online learners – who are they and what makes them so different?

Kirsty McAllister
Jo Cookson

Sharing practice

This session will explore the current profile of the University's online student community, looking at their motivations for study, working backgrounds, typical learner behaviours and why online was chosen.
Studying online is often interpreted as studying alone. At Coventry, this is simply not the case, we will provide a detailed overview of the tailored support services in place, such as Progress Coaches and Student Experience Officers, to ensure all online learners feel part of the broader university population and achieve the highest outcome from their studies. | Civic Centre

Aidan Ridyard

A masterplan for the Civic Centre site: Aidan Ridyard, Principal Architect at Burrell Foley Fischer, will introduce the thinking and research behind the university's estate development opposite the Council House. Drawing on the site's heritage, location and purpose, Aidan will introduce the concepts which have shaped the latest designs. | Activity: Gamification, Embedding Coventry University Educational Strategy Pillars into your Teaching - Charlotte Collins
This activity can be used with your course teaching team to encourage the staff to think creatively about embedding the Coventry University Strategy Pillar into Modules. Try this activity today to see if you can see your teaching from another perspective.

'Creative Hothaus Coventry': supporting discovery, development and risk - John Hammersley
This presentation discusses the importance of integrating disruptive, dynamic, and innovative learning. |

Lunch 13:10 - 14:00
CLOSE						